cated accounts are filed in the State Department, amount in all to something over eight millions of dollars. -The issue of the two millions of bonds in aid of the Chatham Railroad, granted by the North Carolina Legislature, has been stopped by a writ of injunction. -The New York Tablet announces that nearly fift: thousand dollars have already been secured in that city for the American College in Rome. -Senator Sumner says that the subject of the Alabama claims has never been considered by the Committee on Foreign Relations, of which he is chairman; and, further, that he has never been able to ascertain officially the exact status of the pending negotiations. -The Richmond Whig says that influences are at work among the highest Virginia circles to organize measures for the ending of sectional strife on the accession of the new administration and for the settlement of any national demand that may be made upon the So thern people.

-Mr. Jenckes, of Rhode Island, intends to present a bill extending the limit of the operations of the Bankrupt act, after the holiday recess. He feels confident that the Senate will agree to pass it, and that with the aid of the Southern members he will get it through the

The apparatus is coming into use in England for shooting parties and picnics, and is recommended as admirably suited to the wants of the poor.

-The following is put forth as the pro-· gramme of Napoleon III to secure the Imperial throne to his son: A few days previous to the general elections in June next, Napoleonis to abdicate in favor of his son, and this abdication is to be ratified by a pelbiscita. This move, it is thought by the Imperialists, would bring out a very full vote in the country districts, and it would not only be ratified by an overwhelming majority, but would also secure the election of the government candidates in all the closs and doubtful districts.

-The establishment on the river Uruguay, South America, for the manufacture of Liebig's Extract of Meat, it is stated, has the largest kitchen in the world. The building covers an area of 20,000 square feet, or nearly half an acre. In one hall there are four meat cutters, which can dispose of 200 bullocks each per hour. There are twelve digesters, in which the meat is boiled by steam. They can hold altogether 144,000 pounds of beef. Its precise composition has not yet been determined, but will probably before long be ascertained. At the same time, Mr. Huggins, who has made so many important discoveries in reference to the composition of the heavenly bodies, by means of the spectroscope, presented a communication stating that at least one comot contains carbon in a state of ignition.

her position, by accepting a second lien upon this property in lieu of a first, which she

Far be it from me to deny that some are born with loftier capacities, quicker perceptions, happier mental constitutions, than others; yet I think what is best in a human intellect is not capacity, but tendency. Of the three decidedly most gifted and brilliant young men I have known, one died in a poorhouse of delerum tremens, another sunk into an early grave, respected, but also the victim of alcoholic stimulation; the third, though h rdly thirty, is to-day a vagabond and a cumberer of the ground, to whom it would be very unsafe to lend a dollar."

OFFICE OF UDOLPHO WOLFE,
Sole Importer of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps,
No 22 Benver-street.
NEW YORK, November 3, 1868. To the People of the Southern States:

WHEN THE PURE MEDICINAL RESTORATIVE now so widely known as WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, was in reduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical procession some twenty years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholl escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest i with strongest possible safeguard against counter feiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dengerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its puri ty and properties having been thus ascertained, sam ples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and report of the result, accompanied each specimen Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions o the article were unanimously favorable. Such preparation, they said, had long been wanted by e profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for nedical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oi of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic els ment, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimu lant as a diure ic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professions men of the highest rank were published in a con densed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were als adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were am-Lossed on the bottles, and the corks were scaled with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this counity under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic bill are anxious for a sale of the road, and Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that

They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorse ment which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by mendacious humbugs; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements para phrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, lishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filed them up with ommon gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick, for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is pre scribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these efarious practices. The genuine article, manufac tured at the establishment of the undersigned in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extrac of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequalled pu rity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is treed from every acrimoniou and corrosive element. Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States o the sale of cheap unitations of the Schledam Ar matic Schnipps in those murkels; and travellers who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, tes tify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to common use. The World newspaper has been him the names of such parties as they may ascersending around to the bars of the leading ho- tain to be engaged in the atrocious system of decep tion. In conclusion, the undersigned would say the stitutions, and nobody will be surprised to he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs un answerable of the purity and medicinal excel lence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; tha he has expended many thousand dollars in sur rounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should project the public and bimself to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison an experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation whi h bears his name, seal and trade mark, has come off triumphant. He, therefore, feels are but two which he pronounces genuine, and it a duty he owes to his fellow-citiz as generally, to the medical protession and the sick, to denounce and expose the charlatons who counterfeit these evi dencies of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great

Dear Sir—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medicinal purposes has been long felt by the procession, and thousinds of lives have been searnfied by the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremens, and other discuses of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great decree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Bottled Whes and Liquors should meet with the same denimal.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Whies, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.
